Following Industry Problem Statements have been suggested by the Industry Experts

Interested Faculty/students can choose any of the below given problems or can choose their own problem and start working on implementation and can present solution/prototype/strategy on innovation day:

1. Building a data generator that can be used to do performance testing
- 2.Facial recognition using tensor flow library
3. Integrate Alexa and say compile code and code gets compiled
4. Parse sms data and build income estimation model
5. Making Solar power affordable (right now it has very high capital costs)
6. A cheap affordable (by middle class) air cleaner to reduce pollution inside the homes
- 8.Expense Management SaaS - Corporates, companies, startups everyone has expenses, how do you track, approve, automate this process in simplistic ways

9.Purchase Order to Pay Record Keeping SaaS - Businesses raise purchase orders and keep track of deliveries before paying the vendor. A recording, approval & automation engine for such use cases.

10.Influencer Led Ecommerce - Instagram, FB & other social media platforms were developed for social interactions & are not commerce native. It's a common trend now to setup stores on Instagram & cross sell. Can a influencer first ecommerce platform be built?

11.Whatsapp Product Discovery - Chatbot integrated with WhatsApp that can help person in finding cheapest products online across platforms.

12.One problem in Telecom industry is ducting. Ducting is impacting telecom performance whenever there is change in atmospheric temperature and humidity, signals get trapped in this duct and travel up to 40 km, 100 km, 150 km... whereas they are intended to cover only 1.5-3 km max in 4G.
